Eucharistic Reflection: Communion with Christ and the Church

St. Paul emphasizes that this communion exists not only among ourselves but also with those who came before us. In addressing the Church at Corinth, he praises them for holding fast to the traditions, just as I handed them on to you (1 Cor 11:2). Later, he highlights the Eucharist as a sacred tradition handed on by Christ to the Apostles, and in which we now share: For I received from the Lord what I also handed on to you (1 Cor 11:23). During every Mass we are united with all the holy men and women, the saints, who have preceded us.

Order of Christian Initiation: Trust in the Lord

The 13th Sunday in Ordinary Time Year B teaches us to trust in Jesus' power and love. The woman with the hemorrhages and Jairus both show us examples of strong faith. Their stories remind us that Jesus is always ready to help us.

We may face different challenges in life. Some may require immediate help, while others may take time. But no matter the situation, our faith in Jesus can bring us comfort and hope.

As we reflect on these readings, let us remember to turn to Jesus in our times of need. Let us trust in his power to heal and restore. Our faith in him can make all the difference.

LET'S TALK

WITH SEMINARIAN JOE DERICIO

THE FIRST PRECEPT OF THE CHURCH

TALK # 6

You shall attend mass on Sundays and holy days of obligation

It is important that we attend mass on Sundays and holy days of obligation because it is our way of keeping them holy. If we sit at home, how can we expect to delineate them from any other day of the week. The sabbath in the Jewish tradition is on Saturday, as it was understood as the seventh day of the week, the day on which God rested. However, in her infinite wisdom, the church has designated Sunday as the holy day of the week, in commemoration of our Lord's resurrection.

In the Second Vatican Council's document on the liturgy, Sacrosanctum Concilium, the council fathers call the liturgy the "source and summit of the Christian life." Attending mass on Sundays helps us to see and understand the liturgy as just that. If the liturgy is truly the source and summit of our lives, (that is that the liturgy is the source of God's grace, and simultaneously, the endeavor to which we should be giving the best we have to offer our Lord), then Sunday is the source and summit of our weeks. All of our week's actions and prayers should be drawn, even if only in some remote manner, from Sunday mass, and all of our actions and prayers should be directed to going back to mass the following Sunday. Sunday mass is both an experience to be looked back upon, (it is where we are coming from) and an experience to be looking forward to, (for it is where we are going).

In his excellent book called Reclaiming Vatican II, Fr. Blake Britton says "If the church cannot celebrate the liturgy faithfully and reverently, then all her other tasks will fall short." This statement sums up perfectly, the source and summit claim that the council fathers made in Sacrosanctum Concilium. Reverence however is a tough virtue to master, and it doesn't simply affect those who perform roles in the sanctuary, but also those worshipping outside of it. Reverence is not simply the use of incense at mass or the beautiful music, but rather, it should be allowed to pervade every aspect of our life. While these things, incense and beautiful sacred music, do make up a part of what reverence is, there is so much more to be discovered. This is not also to say that if incense is not used, or music is not played, or maybe just isn't that great, that reverence goes away. Rather these things are meant to compel us to reverence for our Lord, instead of representing reverence of their own accord. Incense symbolically represents the rising of our prayer to God in the heavens like the thick clouds of smoke. Beautiful music naturally brings the mind to transcendent matters. For example, if you are listening to Country Roads on the radio, you might reflect upon the beauty which God has placed us within here in beautiful WV, so too, the hymn Holy God, We Praise thy Name, brings the mind to reflect upon the majesty in which Christ reigns.

The precepts of the Church then, prove themselves to be of paramount importance in the life of Catholics. I shall delve into the others in this six-part series which will continue throughout the rest of my assignment here.

TOURNAMENT DATE: SATURDAY, JULY 27TH 2024

We're gearing up for the 2024 Master's Open Golf Tournament and we need your help.

We're going to save a lot of money this year on the lunch and dinner we offer to our competitors. In order to do this we need all hands on deck on the front end preparation of food.

This is where you come in. Under the pavilion we will be preparing BBQ pork chops on the bone, hamburgers, and serving baked beans, coleslaw and potato salad as side dishes. We're in need of many hands to make enough of the side dishes for 240 hungry people.

- Bluefield Parish Office (304) 327-5623
- Kim Hickman (304) 920-2440

In case of illness: Please call the parish office to let us know if you, a family member, or a parishioner is sick. We can place your name on the prayer list. If requested, Fr. Sebastian will arrange for distributing Holy Communion in the home.

Nursing homes, rehabilitation centers and anyone who is hospitalized are not permitted to contact the church. If someone you know is in the hospital, please call the church office.

In case of serious or life threatening sickness or the actively dying: The church should be contacted as soon as possible.
